Scraper Conveyors

Marwel Conveyors supply and manufacture a variety of scraper conveyors.

All conveyor systems are designed and manufactured to suit the individual customer's needs.

The above photograph below shows a typical scraper conveyor used to remove sludge from a settling tank in a foundry.

In this instance the conveyor was extracting waste wood from a dip tank on a water based paint line.

Control Systems

Marwel design and manufacture control systems in house.
